

We hope that you'll join us on
Thursday, May 18, 2017 from
5:00—6:30 for our first ever

Student Learning.

Just a few of the things you might see...

- What students in different grades are learning about science.
- What Junior Achievement is, and how it relates to our economy.
- How students use technology to demonstrate their understanding, and present what they've learned.
